New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Belden:

I inclose draft of letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, drawn so as to meet views of our C/A broker, Mr.
Saunders.

It differs but little from the rough draft we made this morning.

Should you change it before mailing, I would thank you to send me a copy as finally mailed to the Secretary.

Yours truly,

E. B. Hillhouse

Inclosure.

Dec. 29th 1909.

Hon. Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington, D. C.

Sir:

The American Numismatic Society, organized in 1858, and incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in 1865, a free, public Institution for the collection and preservation of coins and medals, the promotion of the Science of Numismatics and the advancement of Medalllic Art in this country, expect to have an "International Medalllic Exhibition" between March 9th and April 1st, 1910, as indicated by inclosed invitation: the exhibits to be here for a short period and then to be exported.

In view of the fact that these importations will be made by the Numismatic Society and will be in its custody, and will not be accompanied by the several artists, we would respectfully request that, if consistent, the Collector of the Port of New York be instructed to admit said importations under provisions of paragraph 714 of the Tariff Act of August 5th, 1909.

Thanking you in advance for an early reply,

THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY.

May 12th, 1911.

Dr. J. T. E. Hillhouse,
200 West 72nd Street,
New York.

My dear Dr. Hillhouse:

I received this morning one box of medals marked A. J. 48 from the S/S Finland.

The seven packages of books from Hiersewan, regarding which you spoke to me the other day, were received on May second.

I expect to go to Boston to-night and will be away most or possibly all of next week.

Very sincerely yours,

February 9th, 1912.

My dear Dr. Willhouse:-

There is an old saying, with which you are no doubt acquainted, regarding a certain place being paved with good intentions, and my intention to write you has been a very good one ever since you went away, and this is as far as it has gotten till now. You know how apt we all are, when there is something we have to do that does not have to be done at any particular time, to keep putting it off.

I presume about the first thing you did when you got to England was to go and see your very particular friend Mr. Dicksee. If I had known that you were going before you went, I would certainly have sent a great many very affectionate messages to him, but as it is "better late than never" you can deliver the messages the next time you see him.

I saw a most interesting little picture of you a while ago where you were puffing on a pipe and sailing a boat, and looking generally very happy. One thing I did particularly notice about the picture was the absence of the fishing rod, also the materials for making a map.

Things here have been jogging along as well as they could with you away. I noticed, for sometime after you left, whenever I went into Farkell's there were inquiring glances cast at the door as though they wondered why I was alone.

The insurance people sold six or eight of those medals, and Newell bought all the rest, and I have them up here now. While they still belong to Newell, I expect to make arrangements in the course of time to have all of them that I want. We have heard nothing so far regarding any more exhibitions, for which I am devoutly thankful. With you away an exhibition would not be half as much fun. I believe that our good friend, Prince Troubetzkoy, is now in this country. I know he was a little while ago. I have not seen him however, and as he never expressed any kind of appreciation of the benefits that he received from the Society, I have not particularly mourned over the fact that I have not seen him. Of course he may have said "thank you" in his letters to Mr. Huntington, but as the exhibition was held by the Society (even though Mr. Huntington did pay for it) I do not think it would hurt him to have informed the Society that it was a pretty decent sort of an institution, or that it could go to thunder, or some other complimentary expression.

I suppose you have been having a fine time since you went away. Kane informed me that you have been travelling around Europe and enjoying yourself generally. I wish you could drop in and see us now and then as I have missed you very much since you went away. I hope, when you have nothing else to do and feel like a little exercise of that kind, you will drop me a line and let me know how things are going with you, also as to the good health of our very particular friend Mr. Dicksee, and as regards Mr. Dicksee can't you persuade him to come over here and give us a little instructions as to our duties and responsibilities as American citizens.

With kindest regards, believe me,

Very sincerely yours,
